COTTON HARVEST is in full swing and trailer loads stand ready for ginning at Farmers Gin. Some area growers are harvesting more cotton than they expected while others report a poor year for the Milam County crop. Summer drought slowed growth of the plants but kept insect populations down.

With F.M.L.

Two years ago this issue we started a series of articles on Haight Ashbury's hips in San Francisco which have since scattered to other cities and towns and many capitals of Western Europe.

The "underground" press has gained wide distribution throughout college campuses throughout the nation. We are advised a central plant is producing upwards to a hundred of these newspapers not only for college campuses, but for New York and Eastern seaboard high schools.

We were advised in San Francisco in 1967 the far left movement would emerge in 1969 and 1970 in press and political power. And so it has.

Idealism of this generation has spilled over into "acid rock" festivals in New York, Georgia and Texas, the latest a Labor Day weekend gathering at Lewisville. That idealism includes escapism "break outs" on drugs and bathing in the nude.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., is retiring as U.S. Senator after drawing upon college-age idealism which vaulted his presidential candidacy to national primary stature in 1968.

Dedication of these youngsters amazed the most experienced political observers since it kept, with limited funding, McCarthy in expensive state primaries last year.

Limited funding at that level is still a lot of money.

Point is the "new left" has shown considerable belt in political and press arenas without the Establishment. Definition of establishment, under these circumstances, places almost anyone with a sense of responsibility on the outside of this movement.

It is also solidifying public opinion against the extremists of rebellion even when elements of campus routine and establishmentarian life are subject to question.

Observers at these "rock" festivals are impressed with the discipline imposed by the youngsters even if bathing in the "altogether" and inhaling some "trip" material is part of their scene.

During these two years, extremist leadership of the Black movement has lost favor. A number have left the country, muffled their disenchantment or have been charged with felonies in the courts.

It was quite interesting to see "The Berkeley Barb" and other hip newspapers being sold on the downtown streets of San Francisco, even in Chinatown. Their content screamed animosity toward any kind of restriction on their activities, even in San Francisco.

So it is even more interesting to note in a current issue of "Publishers' Auxiliary", a newspaper for newspapermen, a picture of former "Barb" staffers selling copies of another "hip" newspaper.

Some there was a strike against management of the "Barb", probably the original "underground" newspaper on the West Coast, and like protesters against management of industry, they, the disenchanted "Barb" staffers, struck, then started a publication of their own.

It is difficult to tell one establishment from another.

COTTON CROP BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

Cotton ginners are reporting a better crop this year than was expected, with early crops nearly all in.

Buckholts Farmers Gin reports about 500 or 600 bales of cotton have been ginned there, which is less than half of that area's crop. About 90 percent of the early cotton is in now. Harvest of the late cotton has not started, gin spokesmen said. Prospects look good, although some farmers in the area report poor crops compared to other years.

Farmers Gin in Cameron has ginned about 500 bales, less than half of the estimated crop. Mrs. Perry Holder, owner, said some farmers are making more cotton than they expected but others are not doing so well.

The summer drought had one good effect on this year's cotton, according to Milam County Agent's office. Farmers were not plagued with insects as they were last year when large amounts of rain fall caused an abundance of the pests.

County Schools Enroll 4,381

Cameron Public School enrollment dropped to a more comfortable 1,382 from last year's peak 1,618 enrollment which brought overcrowding problems. Although total enrollment was down, Yoe High School registered the largest freshman class on record, with 170 students.

At St. Anthony School officials reported a total enrollment of 150 students. Enrollment at Ben Milam School totaled 252, at Ada Henderson, 463, at Cameron Junior High, 390, and at Yoe High School 507.

The first week of school also saw changes in the lunch schedule. Arnett Zelinski, elementary principal, said second and third grades would eat at 11:15, first and fourth grades at 11:30 and fifth grade at 11:45.

Rockdale registered the largest student body for the 1969-70 year with 1,600 in the 12 grade system. Thorndale had 430 students for the first day of school, but expected about 15 late enrollments. Buckholts enrollment is 130 in 12 grades and Gause has 67 students in 6 grades.

Milam Schools have a total enrollment of 300 students this year. The Milam School received final approval of Federal Consolidated funds of $21,630 before school opened. The program is basically a reading enrichment project that will employ a reading specialist, librarian, 3 teacher aides and a bookkeeper.

The Milam school will operate on a record budget this year totaling $309,572.

County Spending Set At $754,535 In Record Budget

Tries Escape Twice . . .

Teal 'Wants Out'

Kenneth Teal, 17-year-old prisoner in Milam County Jail, was failed a rain Monday in his second escape attempt in four days.

Teal tried to escape Friday and was stopped by Jesse Ellison, Temple man who was convicted here of a Fall's County robbery.

Monday's attempt came as a jail trustee opened the door of the cell where Teal and several other prisoners were housed and Teal grabbed the door key.

Sheriff Carl Black said Morris Dicks, the trustee, brought lunch to the prisoner and managed to close the cell door and bar it on the outside after Teal took the key. Dicks called downstairs to Mrs. Black. She tried to reach the Sheriff by phone and called City Police when she could not contact Black.

A mixup at City Hall sent the Cameron Fire Department, firemen, and City police officers to the scene. When Sheriff Black arrived Teal said he had dropped the key down the plumbing. The key was found under a board in the cell floor when officers searched the room.

Teal tried to escape Friday morning when Sheriff's Deputy Vernie Miller opened the door to return Ellison to the cell. Sheriff Black said Teal grabbed Miller's gun and attacked him. Ellison disarmed Teal and returned the pistol to Miller.

Sheriff Black said Teal has been placed in a different cell with one other prisoner.

Teal was in County Jail on a charge of aiding his uncle, Leland Lyles, to escape from the same jail on July 7.

Both Lyles and Teal escaped on July 18 and Teal was recaptured on August 23. Lyles, who is charged with burglary, is still at large.

County Atty. John Henderson Jr. said he was filing a charge of aggravated assault upon an officer against Teal on Wednesday.

$45M GAIN IN PENSION, LAW, OFFICE COST

County Commissioners Friday approved a $754,535.84 budget for 1970 which includes a pension fund for county employees and $10.9 grants for the Cameron and Rockdale public libraries.

The budget is an increase of $45,239.03 over the 1969 budget. County Auditor John C. Andres said the increase covered the pension fund, $11,000, and an anticipated $18,000 from USDA channelled through the surplus commodities program, anticipated jail repairs and general increases in cost of supplies and other operating expenses.

Income from county ad valorem taxes is expected to be $262,910.00. Income from state and federal agencies for health and welfare programs is set at $23,100.00; from fees, licenses and miscellaneous, $29,718.66 (including $139,300.00 from automobile license fees); from contract work by county commissioners, $18,000.00; and from state and federal road programs, $51,747.10.

County disbursements for health and welfare programs is expected to be $37,900.00 including $10,000.00 to maintain the county home which houses 3 indigents.

Law enforcement costs were set at $11,774.51 (not including salaries or county jail improvements.)

Payroll for the county (including the pension fund) is expected to be $318,400.97. This includes service officers and $3,000.00 for wolf control (trappers salary).

Also budgeted for 1970 is $9,476.00 for new road equipment. The new budget shows a $14,995.00 allocated for courthouses and jail repair and improvement, however Andres noted that $14,000.00 of this would be transferred to the General Fund. He said that amount had been borrowed from the General Fund last year to complete payment on courthouse improvements.

New Milbur Oilwell Pumping 38 Barrels

The Milbur Field gained another oilwell last week; it is the No. 1 - A H. H. Coffield which two Austin operators, Teten and Leonard, drilled in the southwestern section of the field and across the Milam County line in Borden County.

Teten and Leonard filed potential figures showing their new producer pumped 38 barrels of oil per day on perforations at 2,700 - 780 feet. It produces from the Wilcox.

The No. 1 - A Coffield was drilled by Teten and Leonard as a replacement for their No. 1 Coffield which has been abandoned temporarily.

The new oiler adds another well to the southwest extension of the Milbur Field, which has had little production compared to the north-east section lying in Milam County.

Dove Hunters In Annual Swarms

Shotguns blazed, hunters sweated, and mourning doves scattered Monday as the annual contest between man and bird began in Milam County.

Dove season opened at 12 noon on Labor Day and countless hunters swarmed over the countryside in spite of late summer heat.

Dale Moore, Milam County Game Management officer, said reports on the hunting so far show a mixture of results. Doves are spotty in some places and thick in others. He said recent rains probably affected concentration of the birds around water holes.

More doves are reported in the western part of the state than in the eastern, Moore said. "It may pick up later in the season," he added.

Moore said landowners are reminded that they must obtain a shooting preserve license if they lease their land for any kind of hunting — day, season, etc. — and receive any kind of consideration for the lease.

The shooting preserve license may be obtained from Parks and Wildlife Commission office in Austin, from Moore, or any of the 187 district or regional offices.

Moore also said some misunderstanding exists about hunting licenses for doves. Hunters do not have to have a license to shoot doves in their home county.

The county game warden said he found some hunters violating the bag limit, which is 10 per day or 20 in possession, and using untagged shotguns.

"We also want to remind people that quail season isn't open yet," Moore said. "We have a lot of quail this year and we don't want people shooting them before the season opens in November."

Moore also urged hunters to be extra careful with their guns.

HUGE INGOT — Caster Pourer Helper Daniel Marak of Taylor uses an overhead crane to lower a 24x42x175 inch ingot into Alcoa's ingot storage area. The cast aluminum ingot is part of a 6-million-pound order for Alcoa's Warrick (Ind.) Operations.

Alcoa Makes Huge Ingots

Alcoa's Rockdale Works laid claim to a company honor last week by producing 24x42-inch and 24 x 54 inch aluminum ingots. The 24 - inch sheet ingots are the thickest currently in production at an Aluminum Company of America plant.

The two tremendous ingots weigh approximately 17,600 and 21,900 pounds respectively. Both sizes are being produced to fill an order for 6,350,000 pounds of aluminum from Alcoa's Warrick (Ind.) Operations.

The smaller of the two ingots will be made into rigid container sheet, or what is normally referred to as can stock. The wider ingot will be rolled into foil at Warrick and then sent to Alcoa's Lebanon (Pa.) Works for finishing.

Shipment from Rockdale Works to Warrick is done by rail. Since this is the largest ingot handled by the shipping department at Rockdale, higher load-limit cars must be used. Each car holds ten of the 175-inch long ingots.

Once the ingot arrives at Warrick it will be fed into a "hot line" where it is reduced to thickness, coiled, trimmed and tempered. From there it goes through a five-stand cold rolling mill to be flattened to the proper gauge.

A "reel line" is next on its trip through the fabricating facility. There it is sheared, washed, flattened, dried and rerolled in one process.

Can stock is then coated, slit, cut to length and coiled while the foil stock is prepared for shipment to Lebanon.

GULF COAST DISASTER AREA — When vicious Hurricane Camille tore into the Mississippi and Louisiana Gulf Coast, thousands found shelter, food, and clothing in hundreds of Red Cross shelters such as this. Designated the official disaster agency for the nation, the American Red Cross will be providing emergency care and long - term assistance for all those who need it. Red Cross hopes to raise a minimum of $15,000,000 for Gulf hurricane relief. More fortunate Americans can aid Red Cross in this gigantic task by sending their contributions, small or large, to the nearest Red Cross chapter.

Sewing Tips For Fur-Like Fabrics

By Christine Laws

The fur-like fabrics today are really amazing. Take a safari to your local fabric store and be prepared to be delighted by what you will find there.

Imitation furs come in the following patterns now, and there may be more by the time you get to your store: ponyskin, leopard, tiger, cheetah, kalgan lamb, chinchilla, opossum, ocelot, rabbit, zebra, giraffe, broad-tail, persian lamb, polar bear, and fox.

Fake fur has a pile surface, usually synthetic, that looks like fur and a backing that is woven, knitted, or sometimes quilted, in a synthetic or cotton yarn.

They can be divided into three categories according to their depth of pile: deep pile, medium high pile, or short pile. Although these three fabric types are constructed basically the same way, there are some differences in handling them, which will be pointed out as they come up.

Read the label to see if the fabric is washable or drycleanable. These fabrics should be bought using the yardages for fabrics with nap. If not given, add 3/4 to 1 of a yard.

PATTERN SELECTION

Depending on the fabric you select, you might find that patterns with few seams work better. A lightweight flexible fur-like is easier to work with than a stiff one, so you could use a more detailed design with a softer fur-like.

Choose designs without buttonholes and use snaps, frogs, or some of the new decorative closings, such as a chain and button closing. You can also make really good-looking accessories, such as hats, bags, and scarves from fur-like.

LAYOUT AND CUTTING

Follow the layout for a napped fabric. If one is not given, remember when laying out your pattern to have the tops of all pattern pieces pointing in the same direction. The nap of the fur should always run downward.

When fabric is very wide, eliminate as many seams as possible. Cut straight facings in one with the garment. Trim pattern margins before cutting fabric. This makes it easier to cut an even edge on bulky fabrics. Do not fold a very deep pile, but cut only a single thickness.

Place pattern pieces on back side of fabric when laying out. This will facilitate easy marking in addition to aiding your cutting. Cut from the wrong side, going only through the backing and not into the fur. Use sharp scissors and short strokes.

Experiment to see which marking technique shows up best on your particular fabric. Tracing wheel and carbon paper will do very well on most of the short or medium high piles. Mark deep piles with tailor's tacks or tailor's chalk.

STITCHING

Use a medium to large needle (14-16) and heavy duty thread, about 10 per inch. Hand-baste to

QUESTIONS

Question: What is your opinion of the special session of the Legislature and their failure to agree on a new tax? Would you favor a state income tax or a tax on industries?

W. M. Piefer, honey producer - We've been listening quite a bit and from the way people talk they are not for this higher tax business. I don't think Gov. Smith is going to get any more tax money. I'm certainly not in favor of this tax they tried to put on groceries. They need to think and study more before they start those tax laws.

Miss Mary Mode, office worker - "I'm against taxing groceries or a state income tax. My salary can't go up anymore so I have to live on what I make now. The state and national governments should learn to cut expenses instead of raising taxes."

Jack Dubois, businessman. I do not see why some industries and special interests are so protected.

Those men, the Governor, Lt Governor, Speaker and representatives, should be able to work together. Trying to put a tax on food was ridiculous, but they'll probably come up with something worse.

Jack Tumlinson, businessman. If the special session of the legislature has been the most immature the- atrical we have seen in Austin. I don't think we need a state income tax. Evi- dently we need new tax revenue, but a tax on food is not good. This whole issue needs more study and investigation than it has gotten. Certainly industry should pay their share.

PERSONALS—

Mrs. B. F. Bonds and Mrs. W. A. Bonds leave next week on a 22 day tour of Europe. Their travels will take them to Madrid, Rome, Paris, Copenhagen, East and West Berlin, Lucerne, Switzerland, Venice, and a trip by ferry to Sweden.

DUCK, GOOSE SEASONS SET

AUSTIN — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, in a special meeting called last week, set liberal waterfowl seasons within the framework established by the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, U. S. Department of the Interior.

The greatest change came in the duck season with an increase of 25 days of hunting this year, but with a decrease in the number of mallards which may be taken. This year's goose season will be 36 days—an increase of 11 days over last year. No changes were made in the goose bag and possession limit.

Duck season this year will begin one-half hour before sunrise on Nov. 13 and run to sunset on Jan. 11, 1970, for a total of 55 days. Daily bag limit will be four and may not include more than two wood ducks, one canvasback, or one redhead and one mallard.

Possession limit will be eight and may not include more than four wood ducks, one canvasback, or one redhead and two mallards.

Daily bag limit on coot is 10, and the possession limit is 20.

The daily bag limit on merganser ducks is five per day, but may not include more than one hooded merganser. The possession limit is ten and may not include more than two hooded mergansers.

GOOSE SEASON

Goose season will begin one-half hour before sunrise on Oct. 13 and run to sunset on Jan. 11, for a total of 56 days. Bag and possession limit will be a total of five. No changes were made in species which make up the bag.

West of U. S. Highway 81, the bag and possession limit of geese will be one Ross's goose and in the alternative one white-fronted goose or one white-fronted goose and one Canada goose or two Canada geese.

East of U. S. Highway 81, the daily bag limit may not include more than one Ross's goose and either one Canada goose or one white-fronted goose. Possession limit east of U. S. Highway 81 will be no more than one Ross's goose and a choice of two Canada geese or one Canada goose and one white-fronted goose.

Youth Choir Presents 'Tell It Like It Is'

"Tell It Like It Is" will be presented by the Cameron Youth Choir Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Cameron at 7 p.m.

The folk musical has been presented by youth choirs in cities all over the state.

Choir members represent Cameron churches. The musical is presented under the direction of Phil Smith, minister of music at First Baptist Church.

The public is invited to attend.

PTA Sets Annual School Reception

The Cameron Parent Teachers Association will host the annual September meeting - reception on the tennis courts at Yoe campus at 7:30 tonight (Thursday).

The reception, an opportunity for teachers, parents and school board members to meet informally, will also mark the opening of a PTA membership drive for the 1969-70 school year.

Plan Prevention Of Mum Diseases For Fall Blooms

With summer on the wane and fall approaching, it is a good time to consider "mum" diseases and their prevention, says Jerral Johnson, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

During September and October, mum diseases are most evident. Plans should be made now to prevent them before they occur.

Leaf spot diseases are undoubtedly the most noticeable of the mum diseases. Usually, leaf spots occur in mid September on leaves at the base of the plants. These infested leaves soon wither and fall off. Gradually throughout September and October leaf spots spread causing progressive leaf loss.

By full flowering time, all of the leaves may be destroyed - result, fewer blossoms and disappointment for the gardener, who has looked forward to the bright autumn color show that mums provide.

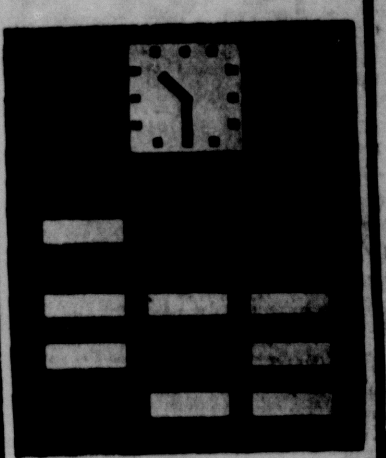

To prevent this loss, says Johnson, the mums should be sprayed or dusted with Zincb or Phallan. Start sprays or dust when the first signs of leaf spots appear on the bottom leaves and re-apply at 10-day intervals until the flowers appear.

Powdery mildew is another common fall mum trouble. Characterized by noticeable white surface mildew on the leaves, it may be prevented by spraying with Karathane or Actidione PM.

Start applications when mildew first appears and repeat five days later. Continue at five day intervals as long as mildew is a problem, suggests the pathologist.

Avoid fusarium wilt, stem rot, and virus disease known as yellows by using wilt resistant varieties, rotating the garden location of the mum beds, and by controlling insects such as aphids, thrips, and leaf hoppers.

The chrysanthemum, he notes, is one of the few fall blooming garden flowers. With its bright flowers, it adds a vivid splash of color to the fall garden. Diseases can destroy this fall flower and must be prevented for maximum satisfaction and enjoyment, concludes the specialist.

MRS. JOHN LOWELL EICHELBERGER
(former Miss Helen Reid)

Home Wedding Unites Eichelberger-Reid

The marriage of Miss Helen Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hempstead Reid, to John Lowell Eichelberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmer Eichelberger of Oakton, Virginia, was solemnized Saturday morning at the home of the bride's parents.

The vows were read by Rev. Gary Reynolds before a gathering of relatives and close friends of the young couple. Mrs. Olive Bradbury provided the nuptial music. Tall pedestal baskets of white gladioli and ferns formed an improvised altar in the living room.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white imported Stoffed fabric. A matching caplet centered with white organza roses held a shoulder-length veil. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and satin love knots.

Miss Karen Thompson and Gerald Eichelberger, the groom's brother, were honor attendants. Miss Thompson wore a blue linen dress and carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Reid received her BA and BS degrees from the Texas

SHOWER, DINNER HONOR COUPLE

Miss Helen Grace Reid, bride-elect of John Lowell Eichelberger, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday night before her marriage on Saturday in the parlor of the First Christian Church. Hostesses were Mrs. B. L. Archer, Mrs. W. G. Harsha and Mrs. Edward Schiller.

A delightful skit, a rock wedding, was presented by Mrs. J. L. Calloway, preacher; Mrs. Denson Crouch, father of the bride; Mrs. B. L. Archer, weeping mother of the bride; Mrs. D. D. Perkins, groom; Mrs. Lorraine Arnold, bride; and Mrs. Bill Hipp, flower girl.

The serving table was laid in a satin and net cloth and centered with an epergne of white roses. Special guests were Mrs. Frank Reid and Mrs. Bill Hipp, of Irving, Texas, mother and sister of the honoree.

Mrs. Brann Allison hosted a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Clark Kelly in Terrell Heights Court, for Miss Reid and Mr. Eichelberger on Thursday evening before their marriage. Mrs. Allison presented Miss Reid with a gift.

Special guests for the evening were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid, and Miss Karen Thompson of St. Joseph, Missouri.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON, D. C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

CHINESE COMMUNIST PURGES

There seems to be a number of authorities writing about Communist China, but one basic statistic is always missing. Is there any evidence or information about how many people Mao or the Chinese Communist regime have exterminated in their various purges, especially in their initial takeover in 1949-50? I would appreciate any help you can give me in this regard.

R.H.B.

Dear R. H. B.:

Estimates of the number of Chinese killed by the Chinese Communist regime necessarily vary, and, owing to the nature of the data, become more approximate as one attempts comprehensiveness.

Early, after the Communist takeover in mainland China, executions were related to the land reform program, in which as a matter of policy executions of landlords were undertaken as a symbolic act to demonstrate that there had been a "turn-over" and to destroy local centers of traditional power. In the old "Liberated Areas" (1947-49), Mao had decreed that violence was to be employed against two per cent of the farm families, no more and no less, and interrogations of Chinese prisoners of war of rural origin during the Korean War confirmed that local land reform cadres carefully followed this policy in determining the number of executions.

Land reform in the new "Liberated areas" (1950-52) called for less violence, and interrogations of Kwantung peasants entering Hong Kong suggested that the proportion of executions was one-half of one per cent of farm families. At this time, some villages were spared, and instead the villagers were taken to a neighboring village to witness a public execution.

There were about 34 million farm families in the old "Liberated Areas" and 68 million in the new ones. The above percentages suggest 680,000 and 340,000 were executed in these respective regions, or roughly somewhat over one million in all.

These executions were considered to have been perpetrated by "the people" rather than the government. A large number of government executions occurred, primarily in 1951, in the "counter-revolutionary campaign." The figure for these was later stated by the government to have amounted to 800,000. The government admitted that such slaughter was unjustifiably harsh and excessive, suggesting it arose from hysterical fears of internal subversion during the Korean War and included many innocent victims. Subsequently, with the large-scale development of labor camps, summary executions were no longer a prominent part of the government's control mechanism.

Life in the forced labor camps is hard and the death rate high; many dispatched to these camps did not return. Subsequently, in various ideological campaigns, many people were driven to suicide. The number of deaths in these categories is impossible to estimate.

There are no reliable figures on deaths which have resulted from factional violence during the more recent "Cultural Revolution." However, during the most extreme periods of fighting, such as the summer of 1967, there was undoubtedly widespread loss of life. The fact that in 1963 many mutilated bodies floated into the waters around Hong Kong and Macao from mainland China is indicative of the nature of the internal conflicts being experienced in China's southern provinces.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Fred Schuetze

The adult leaders association of the Milam County met on August 28, at 8:30 p.m. in the Civic Room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

Mrs. Boyd Stephens, adult leader in the Rockdale 4-H Club was elected chairman of the Milam County Adult Leaders Association for the coming year. L. E. Lamere, adult leader in Minerva 4-H Club was elected vice-chairman.

The group then discussed the county awards program. They decided to have an achievement night instead of a banquet, so that all 4-H'ers could attend and be a part of the awards program. Last year only those 4-H'ers who turned in a recordbook could attend the awards banquet.

The Mr. and Miss 4-H Contest was then discussed and the group decided that this was a good activity and that it should be carried on. The following are the rules set up by the adult leaders for this contest:

1. Each 4-H Club in Milam County may nominate a boy and a girl.
2. Those nominated must have been in 4-H club work 1 year and be at least 10 years of age by Sept. 1, 1969.
3. Those from each club must be run as one team.
4. The votes will be a penny a vote.
5. Votes can be gotten any place.
6. Votes can only be collected between Oct. 1-22, 1969, and must be in the Extension office by 5:00 p.m. on Oct. 22.
7. The results will be announced at the Achievement night on Oct. 23.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Fred Schuetze, Mrs. J. D. Hope Lutheran Plans Groundbreaking For Educational Building

The congregation of Hope Lutheran Church at Buckholts plan groundbreaking and an ice cream social to kickoff the start of construction of a new Educational Unit.

The brick veneer structure will be 38 feet by 92 feet and will consist of nine classrooms, a library, cradle nursery, kitchen, restrooms, and a 25 by 61 foot auditorium.

Members serving on the building committee are:

Arnold Jungmann, chairman, W. A. Persky, Johnny Fuchs, Mrs. Alvin Fuchs, Mrs. Kenneth Springer, and Mrs. Arnett Zelisko.

Contractor is Wayne Crawford of National Building Center, Rogers.

Since July 1969, every State has paid benefits each month to jobless persons under the nationwide unemployment insurance system.

New, Safer Crop Spray For Texas

New formulations and use areas, and application methods for an old standby promises a new safe, but effective, insect control.

The material is Pyrethrin (R), a formulation of pyrethrins and piperonyl butoxide developed as a clean-up or pre-harvest spray where other insecticides are limited because of residue restrictions.

Its use in combination with other materials to control resistant insect strains, or, as an "exciter" to flush pests out of hiding and into contact with spray residues is a new technique in the battle against pests.

The pyrethrins are safe to use and pose no residue problems. Pyrethrin crop spray is also recommended as a fruit fly (drosophila) control on farms, around processing plants, on trucks, and in stacks of fruit and vegetables to be processed. Hornets, house flies, grain moths, gnats, mosquitos and skipper flies are other pests it controls.

Soil Fertility Shortcourse Set

By J. D. Moore

Soil Testing, Fertilizer Rates, Economic use of Fertilizer, and Time and Method of Fertilizer Applications for Crops on Sandy Soils, are subject to be discussed at the first meeting of the Milam County soil fertility shortcourse to be held at Rockdale on the night of October 6.

The second meeting of the shortcourse will be held in the District Courtroom in Cameron on the night of October 7. Fertilizing crops on blackland will be stressed at this meeting.

Dr. John Shapin, Area Agronomist and James Denton, Area Farm Management specialist attended the planning meeting. Others attending were Hugo Aigner, Ben Arnold, Mack Biggers and W. S. Turner, Cameron; Ezra Johnson, Gause; Fred Schuetze, John Snell and J. D. Moore, Milam County Agents.

Zajicek Is Graduate Of A&M Electronic Training Institute

Walter Zajicek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Zajicek of Buckholts, graduated Friday from the 18-month Electronic Technician Training School at Texas A&M University's Institute of Electronic Science.

Zajicek has accepted employment with A&M's Cyclotron Institute. His wife Benny Marie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris of West.

The institute, a part of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, is funded by Texas A&M and the Texas Education Agency.

Chief instructor Arlie Patton said the school also recruits support from industry, which hires the men as fast as A&M can train them.

Patton noted graduates received average starting salaries of $65 a month. Starting wages have increased from $30-40 each graduating class, or six month period he pointed out.

The next class will start Sept. 15 and is open to anyone who can

A County Swine Meeting held in the conference room of the First National Bank last Tuesday night was attended by 40 swine producers and friends. Dr. R. M. Tittsworth discussed the Hog Cholera situation and how swine producers will be affected by the recent law.

Harvey Tagg, swine producer in the Thordale area and chairman of the Cen-Tex Pork Producers' Association discussed the purpose and activities of the association. He pointed out the need for pork producers to support and let their existence be known in several areas of involvement.

After reviewing the county swine situation, Gene Hillman, swine producer and feed dealer of Cameron was elected chairman of the county swine committee.

Plans were set for a county swine shortcourse to be held November 24 and 25. In discussing the current situation in Milam County, it was pointed out that with adequate grain supplies, production know-how and adequate financing, swine production could easily add another half million dollars to the county economy.

Sept. 21-27 Will Be Texas Hiway Week

AUSTIN — Governor Preston Smith has designated the period September 21, 27 as "Hiway Week in Texas."

Gov. Smith set aside the seven-day period for annual tribute to the State's highway builders and its superb 69 thousand-mile highway network.

Theme for Highway Week this year is "Highways Bring Better Living."

The observance in Texas is sponsored each year by the Texas Good Roads Association in cooperation with the Texas Highway Department and the highway-building industry. Chambers of commerce and city, county and State leaders organize community programs for the Highway Week observance.

Teachers Group Opposes Taxation Of School Bonds

The Board of Directors of Texas Classroom Teachers Association has gone on record as opposing federal legislation to remove the tax-exempt status of state and municipal bonds.

The proposal to eliminate the exemption of these bonds, which includes school bonds, is pending in the US Senate.

The TCTA Board opposes the tax reform proposal on the grounds that it is essential for school districts to be able to finance needed facilities through issuance of bonds at the lowest possible interest rates.

Taxation of such bonds would force a rise in interest rates to levels affecting the marketability of school bonds. The cost of borrowing for Texas school districts would be raised to a point that might affect ability to finance even the most urgent plant needs.

Opposition to the proposal has also been voiced by the Texas Association of School Boards, Texas Council of Major School Districts, and both United States Senators from Texas, John Tower and Ralph Yarborough.

Texas Classroom Teachers Association is a 48,000-member, statewide organization composed solely of classroom teachers. With affiliates in 215 Texas school districts, it is the largest organization associated with Texas States Teachers Association.

Highway Commission Approves $331,000 For County FM Roads

The Texas Highway Commission today announced that it has approved a $32 million State Highway Safety and Betterment and Market Road Improvement Program for 1970.

The program includes construction work on 6,373.2 miles to cost $31.1 million and right of way and relocation assistance totaling $977 thousand. Approximately $971 thousand was reserved for later assignment.

The Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Programs for Milam County are as follows:

US 79 - From 2.1 miles west of FM 1786 to 1.1 mile west of State 36 at Milano, a distance of approximately 13.8 miles - Additional surfacing - an approximate cost of $87,000.

US 77 - From 0.6 mile north of FM 1712 to Lee County line, a distance of approximately 15.5 miles - Level up on sections and seal coat - an approximate cost of $37,100.

FM 485 - From Bell County line to US 77, a distance of approximately 8.3 miles - Recondition grading, base and surfacing - an approximate cost of $87,900.

FM 487 - 3.8 miles northeast of FM 1712, a distance of approximately 0.5 mile - Replace San Gabriel bridge and approaches - an approximate cost of $91,600.

FM 1712 - 2.0 miles north of FM 487, a distance of approximately 0.9 mile - Recondition grading, base and surfacing - an approximate cost of 7,600.

Approximately 55 percent of the work will be for projects on State and U.S. numbered highways, with 45 percent assigned to work on the Farm to Market Road System.

Most of the work will serve to increase safety on the highways. A large portion of the program is for reconstruction of highways and Farm to Market roads, including such work as widening pavement and structures, improvements to shoulders and construction of improved surfacing.

Hottest Lobby Of All...

"Capitol A," bylined by Glen Castellbury and George Koempel of the Austin American-Statesman, tagged a power and personality clash over the current tax bill in an August 26 column. They document various techniques of keeping the press out of conference committee meetings over the means of finding the bill's $340 millions.

LT-Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher have locked over the question. And the public interest is the loser.

"The leadership has thumbed its nose repeatedly at the public and the press," writes Castellbury and Koempel. They cited "secret sessions of the conference committee to the final ludicrous bomb threat lock-out of the press from the House Chamber."

The press at many levels runs into this kind of thing when the subject is new taxes or other controversy.

Texasans are adamant about proposing the sales tax extension to food, still enraged. The Texas House responded last week in voting 147 to 6 against the proposal.

Responsibility for imposing new taxes has been pushed this way and that since LT-Gov. Barnes correctly noted a few months ago the public's antagonism toward any new state taxes. But Governor Smith vetoed a one-year budget on principle, interpreting the Constitution's rhetoric as a two-year requirement.

No one wants to tag taxes on constituents or interest groups in a year when taxes are anathema. Nor does anyone wish to see state government lock out the public's press even when the unhappy, but essential business of new taxes is discussed. Particularly in a lockup between Senate and House leaders.

The hottest lobby of all is a public incensed by leadership callous toward the public's right to know... about how they are taxed or anything else.

PROTESTER

Dateline Austin...

Lawmakers Return For Second Budget Attempt

With the first special session of the Legislature a failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

Midnight gavels fell August 26 with neither task accomplished after tax conference committees were unable to break a stubborn deadlock.

LT-Gov. Ben Barnes blamed the first session's failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

A Senate proposal to place food under a 2.5 per cent (reduced rate) sales tax was butted down unanimously (147-0) by the House. Thereafter, negotiations never budged beyond that point.

In calling for the second session, Governor Smith laid it on the line. "We have been treated to a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby," said the Governor. "I believe the people of Texas are sick and tired of it. I know I am."

Smith warned that every function of state government would be "paralyzed or thrown into a state of uncertainty and confusion" if the new session failed to come up with a certain revenue appropriation by September 1.

Legislature responded by hanging through emergency 60-day budget proposals which would operate the state government through October 31 while members sought to reconcile differences over long-range finances.

SAFETY PLAN RESUBMITTED
Texas failed to meet federal requirements with its traffic safety program, but a new plan now has been submitted.

Highway Safety Bureau of the U.S. Department of Transportation is reviewing the second effort.

Governor Smith was notified by Robert Brenner, acting director of the bureau, that the plan presented last December, before Smith took office, was incomplete.

Comments on the new plan are encouraging, says Smith, but final action is not expected until fall.

Meanwhile, said the governor, safety efforts are continuing through the Texas Education Agency, the State Highway Department, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Dept. of Public Health.

CRIME RATE UP

Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, says Texas crime rate for the first six months of 1969 was 7.7 per cent higher than the comparable period in 1968.

Major crimes increased in all categories except murder and homicide, where the rate declined 8.8 per cent.

Greatest increase was in robbery... up 31.2 per cent. Aggravated assaults increased 20.9 per cent, auto theft 14.8 per cent, burglary 9.7 per cent, rapes 7.2 per cent and thefts 3.9 per cent.

Urban areas experienced the greatest increase - 8.5 per cent. In rural areas, the average hike was less than one per cent. In cities over 100,000, the increase was almost nine per cent. In those from 50,000 to 100,000, increase was 7.1 per cent and in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, 18.8 per cent.

Crime clearance rates for the period was 27 per cent... the same as 1968. Clearance rate for murders was 84 per cent, for rapes 66 per cent and robbery 39 per cent.

DPS noted that statistics show a major crime every one and one-third minutes during January-June.

LATE HOURS PERMITS
Texas Liquor Control Board now is issuing special late hours permits for taverns and private clubs in wet areas.

A new law, effective September 1, provides that late-hours establishments can serve alcoholic beverages until 2 a.m. However, the statute is effective only in counties of 300,000 or more population (based on the 1960 census) and those where commissioners courts or city councils specifically approve.

State fee of $100 is collected from taverns selling wine and beer until the new curfew hour. Private clubs which want to stay open until 2 a.m. must pay $500 for a permit. State Liquor Control Board must issue the permit or license.

SADLER CENSURE REFUSED
After lengthy debate, House of Representatives rejected a proposed resolution reprimanding Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for failing to co-operate with lawmakers.

Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi introduced the resolution (and resubmitted it to the second called session) charging that Sadler misled a House committee inquiring about his handling of salvage operations on ancient Spanish ships which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Sadler, appearing before the House rules committee, admitted his original testimony on the issue was evasive and misleading. However, he claimed his tactics were necessary because of the delicate nature of the subject under inquiry.

SECURITIES

Truman G. Holladay, deputy securities commissioner, says the State Securities Board has issued a cease and desist order against Pace International, Inc., of Austin (known as Paceco), prohibiting the sale of securities in Texas. He charged that the company had never been registered, as is required by law, with the board.

William King, securities commissioner, also announced that Wayne C. Davidson has pleaded guilty to charges that he sold unregistered securities. King was sentenced in Harris County to three years in prison and given a probated sentence. One of the conditions of the probation is that Davidson is to make full restitution to the investors.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

That "no transfer" rule of the University Interscholastic League will be the subject of an interim House study. During the first special session of the Legislature, Rep. Bill Swanson of Houston gained passage of a resolution calling for the study.

Swanson said the UIL also thinks there should be some appeal of the one-year bar for athletes who change schools, so the committee will look for an acceptable means.

Agriculture Secretary Will Hold 'Listening Conference' At A&M

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin will hold the fifth in a series of "listening conferences" on September 18 at Texas A&M University. The conference will be held in G. Hollis White Coliseum on the A&M campus beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Farmers and farm industry leaders from five Southwestern States, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, will attend and through their spokesmen will tell the Secretary what's on their minds.

Cooperating in the arrangements for the conference are the vice presidents and deans of agriculture in the Land Grant Universities of the five states. Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean, College of Agriculture, Texas A&M will preside at the conference. The conferences are designed to give every person who attends an opportunity, either through oral presentations or written briefs to present his ideas on an expected wide range of topics.

These are expected to include opportunities for maintaining and increasing farm income; opportunities in rural America; rural-urban balance; proper nutrition and diets; development of natural resources and conservation and related subjects.

Secretary Hardin said several members of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, including Chairman W. R. Poague of Waco, will attend at least a part of the conference. Senior members of the Secretary's staff will accompany him on the visit to Texas.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I saw it on television and then later confirmed it by reading it in a newspaper, or was it the other way around? I really can't say because I can't remember what paper it was, but as I understand it 400,000 students, well they were young enough to be students, gathered on a farm in New York state the other day for three days of music and mud-baths.

Now I don't know anything about this, if students want to march on a farm, why not? It's about the only thing that hasn't been marched on. And if any of them are demanding the right to work on one, here's my tractor key.

But one item in the newspaper account interested me. To get the news in depth, I'll take a newspaper every time. It said the farmer who owned the land where the cultural event took place leased it to the promoters for $50,000 for three days.

Finally, one farmer has reached parity, less what it took to clean up afterwards, and what I'd like to know is, haven't we got any kids around here interested in culture?

Now I've got this Johnson Grass farm sitting out here and will be glad to lease it on the same terms that New York state farmer got, provided it was cash in advance.

This farm meets all the requirements of student music-lovers. It is not tied in with the military-industrial complex, there are no hypocritical politicians on it, no regimented city life, nobody here believes especially in working for a living, it's got wild flowers for hair - male or female, the ground is as hard and close to nature as any on earth, it believes in equal comfort for everybody and free electricity for air-conditioning in the summer and free heat in the winter and no questions asked about who chopped the wood or generated the electricity, and while it doesn't have any rock bands it does have a radio that brings in lots of static. Furthermore, if paid enough extra, I will deliver a speech just as wrathful and daft as any ever made by a 20-year-old student as he re-organized a university and threw out mathematics along with the dean.

If you know of anybody interested in promoting this Johnson GRASS ROCK FESTIVAL, tell him to get the money together and I'll do my best to pick out a rainy weekend.

Yours faithfully,

W. Marvin Watson

Mental Health

READERS WRITE ABOUT STIGMA AND MENTAL ILLNESS

Are we still casting stigma upon those who have or have had a mental illness?

Readers' letters and comments are most helpful in preparation of these articles for Mental Health Matters because they forcefully call to attention specific human problems which may too often be overlooked. One of these is the matter of attaching stigma and shame to a past or present victim of mental disorders.

A reader writes of difficulties a member of the family suffered. As a consequence of having been stricken with mental illness while in high school, he was looked down on and jobs were denied him. He finally moved to another town, where he obtained an successfully held down a good job.

Expressing the heartfelt wish that the stigma of mental illness could be done away with and that "every-one would accept it as any other disease," our reader correctly says that most of the mentally ill get well or can be greatly helped.

"If society doesn't treat them right and let them work as other individuals who have been sick and got well, we will always be in the dark ages," the reader adds.

Writing of the interest in these articles, another reader tells of the history of mental illness in a family and some of the many problems that beset them.

While pointing out the difficulties in finding solutions to individual cases, such as getting job rehabilitation services, the writer was emphatic in the viewpoint that we are not going backward, but forward.

"Thank God for the progress made in helping the mentally ill," the writer said.

Session Wrecked By 'Personalities' Says Rep. Kubiak

The first Special Session of the Legislature was "wrecked by personalities" differences hardly more consequential than the shape of the conference table, said Rep. Dan Kubiak in his weekly report from Austin.

He agreed with Gov. Smith that "the roadblock exists at the top level."

Rapping the proposed Senate tax package which included taxing groceries at 3 1/2 percent, Kubiak said the House defeat of the bill was a victory for the people and farmers and small businessmen in the 27th District.

"This was a bill which even though both of my Senators voted for and supported, I could not accept and fought to defeat it," Kubiak said. "It is my opinion that poor judgment was used in writing a bill of this type when so many other sources of revenue exist."

He added that legislators have worked "around the clock" the last 30 days in an attempt to "get the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House to compromise their differences and allow the members of the House and Senate to write a compromise tax bill."

Kubiak said the Thursday House session lasted nine hours as members worked out a two-year tax bill. He said "we skipped supper and any recess in order to get the measure to the Senate."

Friday the Senate "tagged" the bill and adjourned until 2 p.m. Tuesday, Rep. Kubiak said. He added that the bill, the best balanced thus far, still has some areas for improvement.

New Speedway Nears Completion

COLLEGE STATION
Texas International Speedway - "The Fastest Track North, South, East or West of the Mississippi," is breaking all construction records as it rapidly nears completion as a total auto racing system designed for stock, Championship, Grand Prix and sports car racing.

Located six miles southeast of College Station, the $3 million facility has already utilized 800 acres of a 2600 acre site in an accelerated building and development program that is without precedent in the field of modern construction methods.

Leo Margolian, general manager, reports that construction is well ahead of schedule on all fronts and that the track will be ready for "shake-down" and initial testing by mid-October.

Texas International Speedway has been designed as one of the world's fastest speedways. Total construction activity is estimated to be 75 per cent complete six months after groundbreaking.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vera Sanford

Looking for a new lake (or fish)? How about Somerville, that new and fabulous lake on Yegua creek, just north of Brenham?

A group of outdoor writers tried it early this year. Unfortunately it was a real winter day, cold and windy, but we did see enough of it to know that this a fabulous body of water. One thing for sure it attracts anglers from the Houston area. They are there in droves!

Somerville dam was built by the Corps of Engineers. It creates a reservoir covering some 24,000 surface acres at conservation level. Surprising thing is that it's already full of water, something that was not expected for at least another year.

Also surprising is the fact that it seems to be full of fish. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department began transplanting catfish and bass into Lake Somerville as soon as there was enough constant water to maintain them. This stream, which provides flood protection for 9,000 acres in Burleson, Washington and Lee Counties, feeds into the Brazos.

Yegua Creek Watershed is 62 mi. long and 32 miles wide, with a drainage of 1,230 square miles. Construction of the dam began in 1962 and cost over $23 million.

There already are two excellent marinas and two developed parks, with more underway. Overlook Marina and Park, on the west side of the lake, is the most advanced and has more facilities available.

Much brush has been left standing in the upper reaches of the lake. Since considerable farm land was covered by the impoundment, the water is rich in food for the fish and they have grown fast. There is ample water in the area of the dam for all water sports, while the upper reaches provide ideal fishing conditions, particularly back in the small tributaries.

Lake Somerville can be reached over paved roads from many points. Main approach, however, is between Somerville and Brenham on State Highway 36.

Somerville lake is only 38 miles from Houston and 200 miles from the cemetery day picnic Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud De Hay and Mr. Newt Drury of Dallas spent Sunday evening and Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Harry White.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Fontaine of Huntsville and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Winger of Houston spent the weekend at their home here.

Rev. Worth of Ben Arnold and Mrs. Gussie Schultz of Cameron visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Horhitz of Brownwood, Mr. John and Miss Ovena Horhitz of Hamilton spent Saturday and Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel. They were here for the Stoeber reunion. The Senkels accompanied them to National Hall to the reunion Sunday.

Peggy Thweatt spent Wednesday night with Dianne Lucko. Diane had a slumber party for several girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel were happy to learn Saturday of the arrival of their first great grandson. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Phipps of Austin are the happy parents.

Rev. and Mrs. Wert Skinner of Cameron and Rev. and Mrs. Herod and Donald of Hearne were guests

Dallas. Each week-end you'll find boats, and plenty of the, trailed in from nearly every major point in Texas.

In the spring, crappie fishing is at its best in the fast water below the dam. Families flock there, with fishermen standing almost shoulder to shoulder, yet catching literally hundreds of fair-size crappie.

Guides around the lake report wonderful topwater fishing throughout the warm months. Jigs and eels are the main bait during the winter. Also during the winter there is excellent duck shooting on the upper end of the lake.

Boats, motors, and live baits are available at Lake Somerville. Also between Brenham and the lake are a number of bait stands, antique shops and roadside stores.

Lake Somerville is patrolled by game management officials who are keeping down game violations. You'll find good fishing the year round at Somerville Lake and during the spring, summer and fall fishing should be at its very best.

Under the Operation Mainstream program, the U.S. Labor Department pays older workers in small towns and rural areas to work on public improvement projects.

Thanks to conservation efforts the American elk population has increased from 50,000 to 250,000 during the past 50 years.

Senate Wants Tax On Beer, Whiskey Says Sen. Watson

The Texas Senate seems determined to place a tax on beer and whiskey, according to Sen. Ray Watson's report from Austin. Watson said the delay in Senate consideration of the House tax bill completed on Thursday was delayed 48 hours by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston when he "tagged" the $385 million measure.

"However, there was little chance of it gaining Senate approval," Watson said, "since it did not contain any tax on beer and whiskey."

He added that the Senate bill will probably call for an increase of either 3 1/2 percent or 3 3/4 percent in the sales tax and will include some items now exempt — not food — and will place beer and whiskey under the tax.

(A hearing on the bill set for Monday by the Senate State Affairs Committee was recessed without any action taken. The committee was to meet again on Tuesday.)

"I think we have a good two-year appropriations bill ready for action by the Senate and the House once a tax bill is adopted by the two bodies," Watson said. "I felt the institutions in the 13th Senatorial District fared well in the appropriation bill adopted by the conference committee in the regular session."

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

an Optimistic View

Hurray for youth!...the juveniles of our community. Let us, during national youth week, honor the 95% of our young people who are law-abiding citizens and will be the dependable community men and women of tomorrow. God help the small minority (only 5%) referred to as delinquents. They are the ill-advised, law-breaking thugs who glory in character assassination and destruction of public property. Optimist Clubs International are leading in the crusade to give the good youngsters of our world their rightful place in the sun. May this huge army of juveniles not forget that the church on the corner will aid greatly in helping them keep their feet on the right road.

"Oh, Come, Let Us Sing Unto The Lord,"—For There Is No Variableness In God's Cause Nor In His Justice . . . Then Come, Let Us Attend Our Church Or Synagogue This Week . . . This Word Of Invitation From Sponsors Of This Spiritual Values Page.

ley of Houston and Mrs. Mattie Gillend of Rogers.

You Don't Say

CONSTRAIN
if you are referring to holding back from acting or proceeding;
keeping in check; repressing.

RESTRAIN is the correct word for this meaning.
CONSTRAIN means to compel by physical or moral means, to coerce. It also means to confine, as by bonds.

A CONSTRAINED smile would mean a forced, unnatural smile.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Prefabricated Will

Whether you are aware of it or not, a "will" has already been prepared for you. Known as the "statute of descent and distribution," it is a plan drawn up by your state legislature, to be used after your death in case you fail to make a will of your own.

How does this prefabricated will divide up your estate? Generally speaking, it follows a kind of law of averages, dividing things up the way an average person probably would.

In theory, that makes sense. But in practice, the use of cut-and-dried rules can have some startling consequences. For example:

In one case, a youth who murdered his father was held entitled to his estate. Under the state statute (since changed), a son's rights were automatic—no one having thought about the possibility of murder.

In another case, a woman was awarded her husband's estate even though she was living in adultery at the time of his death. To outraged objections by his relatives, the court replied:

"It is unnecessary to discuss wisdom or morality. It is sufficient that the legislature has declared the rules by which the rights of the parties must be determined." True, these are extreme cases. But the prefabricated will also works out badly in many everyday circumstances. Take the situation when a man dies, leaving small children and only a modest estate.

In most states, if he has not made a will of his own, only part of his estate would go to the widow—the balance going directly to the children. For the widow, this could mean years of going through court procedures, for permission to spend the children's money on the ordinary expenses of life.

The trouble is not that the lawmakers, in drawing up the prefabricated will, don't try to be
